

Clubs Plan Activities

With the start of a new school year at Bellefontaine the major clubs have started work on planning activities. Already the calendar is crammed with club meetings and programs; so it will be a busy year for all involved.

The glee club has already taken in new additions as well as a new director, Father John Szantyr, M.I.C. Preparations are being made for a musical line-up for the coming season.

One of the more active clubs of the school, Explorer Post 101, has already had a campout for the old members. The new members will have their chance the first weekend in October, with the training camp. Various work days have also been scheduled to help out in different areas of the school. A major activity, a trip, is being planned for the middle of November.

The debate schedule has been made out for the year, and it looks like a rather full one, with the first Berkshire League debate on October 18, and first Diocesan debate on November 20. The debate club also plans on attending several invitational tournaments.

The mission club plans to bring back the idea of the discussion groups, where a small group will discuss only one geographical area and will become familiar with that area.

During the World Council of Sodality held earlier this year, a re-evaluation was taken of the Sodality and the name was changed to Christian Life Community along with the other general principles being changed. Again the great stress in the CLC here at Bellefontaine will be apostolic works both within and outside the seminary. The major outside apostolic works will still be visiting old age homes, bowling with the handicapped and working with children at Brightside Orphanage in Springfield.

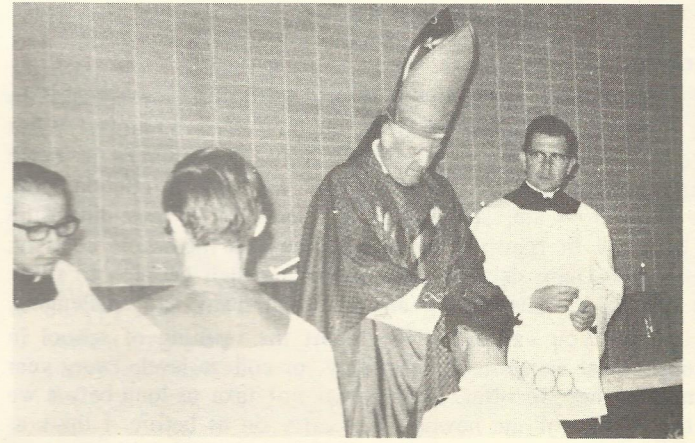

IHM HONORED WITH ORDINATION

On September 21, Father Paul Murphy, S.C.J., ascended the final step on the road to the priesthood. Bishop Christopher J. Weldon of Springfield came to Bellefontaine to ordain Father Murphy. To many of the students as well as the school, it was the first ordination they had ever witnessed.

But the sight of Bellefontaine was nothing new to Father Murphy. Rather, it brought back memories of the two years he taught here. After completing college in 1963, he came to the seminary as a Frater to teach music and third and fourth year Latin. While here Father was choir director and moderator of the debate club.

After two years, Father Murphy left Lenox to continue his studies in Hales Corners, Wisconsin. Up to this year he has completed three years of theology; he has one more year remaining. Father has been working for his Masters Degree in English at St. Louis University during the summer sessions. At its completion he hopes to begin teaching.

Bishop Weldon places his hand on the head of the newly ordained Father Murphy.

SIC PLOTS COURSE FOR SCHOOL YEAR

For the past two years the Student Improvement Council (S.I.C.) has been working on the School Honor Code. With this completed, the S.I.C. is now in the process of obtaining membership in the National Honor Society, this being one of the goals of this year's S.I.C.

Since the school year began, the S.I.C. has already accomplished two things. With the completing of the Honor Code, it was suggested and agreed upon to have this code printed on the reverse side of a Student I.D. Card. The S.I.C. has also followed up on the idea of Father McGuire to start a small student store for the students to buy candy, soda and ice cream.

With these changes and additions to our school, it is necessary to revise the present Student Handbook; another project that the S.I.C. will undertake during the school year. Since the handbook was last written, we have had two prefects and several revisions of policy.

In short, this year's S.I.C. project is to bring Bellefontaine and its students up to date and keep them informed about school activities.

SEVENTH ANNUAL CARD PARTY Draws large crowd . . .

A part of the crowd that made the 7th annual card party a success.

The Seventh Annual Card Party was held this year on the 18th of September in the school auditorium. As usual it proved successful, as a large turnout of local residents gathered to play cards and have a good time.

This year the main objective of our raffle and card party was to obtain funds for a new school bus. Thanks to all you people, we obtained our goal and hope God will bless you for your generosity.

During the summer the seminarians went out and sold raffle tickets. The prizes offered were a Sylvania 12 Transistor radio which went to Mrs. Lena McCleary, Oil City, Pa., a Sylvania portable television set won by Miss Carol Abenson of Teaneck, N.J. and the grand prize went to Mrs. Grace Buck of Lee, Mass. — a beautiful T.V. console. Besides these grand prizes special prizes and door prizes were raffled off throughout the night. The Juniors and Seniors parked cars, sold tickets, served refreshments, and helped out as much as possible. After the announcement of the grand prize winner, which everyone was so anxiously waiting for, the party ended and was marked as a thoroughly enjoyable evening by all.

PRESS TIME

★ Mr. Gilbert French, former teacher of geometry and Algebra II & Trigonometry, has become the head of the Math Department at Crosby Junior High in Pittsfield.

★ Brother Timothy Murphy, formerly in charge of the vocation office, was recently transferred to Divine Heart Seminary in Donaldson, Indiana.

★ Father Walter Nabity, who has been working on a speech degree at Emerson College in Boston, has returned to I.H.M., to start preparation on the play "Ten on A Shoestring."

★ The Juniors are preparing to take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests on Saturday, October 26th.

★ The Seniors will be going to Kilroe Seminary in Honesdale, Pennsylvania on October 11 — 13.

★ Father Paul Murphy, who was recently ordained here, will have one of his first Masses here on Thursday, October 3.

IN MEMORIAM

... "I'll lend you, for a little time, a child of Mine," He said,
"For you to love the while he lives and mourn for when he's dead."

It may be six or seven years, or twenty-two or three,
But will you, 'til I call him back,
take care of him for Me?

He'll bring his charms to gladden you,
and should his stay be brief,
You'll have his lovely memories as solace for your grief?"

But should the angels call for him much sooner than we've planned, We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand"

The students and faculty of Bellefontaine wish to express their deepest sympathy to the family of Christopher James Ransak, who died of a ruptured spleen. Chris was a junior at Divine Heart Seminary in Donaldson, Indiana.

The Rector's Corner

Dear Friends,

The opening of school this year was another happy occasion to see the blessings of the Sacred Heart upon our Community. When you see fifty-four young boys coming into the Seminary to begin their first year of studies, you know you are seeing a phenomenon, because many boys are not entering the Seminary as they did in the past. The trend of transition in the Church and the whole country, for that matter, have delayed some in making their decision to study for the priesthood. The reasons are no doubt many and challenging.

I imagine you can say much about the opening of school in your home, be it elementary, secondary, or college level. Every year has something new to offer. Still it does not take us long before we are in the routine of the newness and carry on as before. I think at times we amaze ourselves at how well all can adapt and adjust to change, for it is the secret of progress.

We hope that you will be with us for another year and that you will enjoy the daily development of our seminarians. They put in many hours trying to publish the Bellefontaine every two months. As we said before, it is something new for them, but the acceptance of the challenge makes each issue easier. It would be a nice gesture if you would write a comment to the editors offering your suggestions. I know they would appreciate them.

You and your intentions were remembered in our Novena which began on October 5th. We want to thank you for your material support and more especially, for your prayers.

God Bless you.

VOCATION WORKSHOPS FULFILL GOAL!

During last summer two vocation workshops were held here at Bellefontaine. The purpose of these was to give the boys attending a chance to find out more about seminary life. These workshops were conducted with the help of scholastics from Honesdale, Pa., and the postulants who lived here for two months during the summer.

The first workshop consisted of 59 visitors and the second of 61.

The boys were given a schedule similar to that followed by the seminarians. Their morning program consisted of four classes - English, Latin, Math, and a study period. After classes they attended Mass and participated in the liturgy.

In each workshop there was plenty of activities; such as movies, talent nights, cookouts, baseball and soccer games, swimming every day, mountain climbing, and seeing the Pittsfield Red Sox.

With boys attending from all six New England states, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania, these workshops fulfilled their purpose; over half of the present class was here a year ago for the workshops.

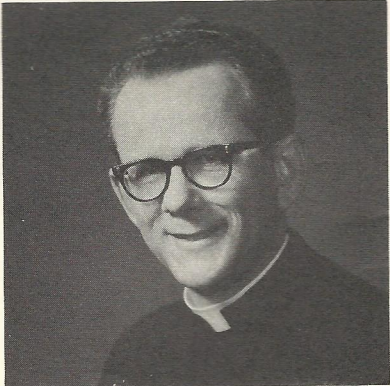

I AM A SEMINARIAN. . WHY?

There are many people who spend much time trying to describe what a vocation is. Recently the students here had that question answered for them in a sermon given by one of the priests on the faculty. The main idea was that a vocation is what God wants of a person, not what that person wants for himself. A vocation is an answer to a call. This is especially true of a religious vocation. I'm quite sure that there are quite a few students here who would rather be home with the people they love. But yet, they came to the seminary and they continue to return after each vacation. People on the outside ask - Why? Why would a person so young make such a total commitment and give up so much? I don't want to give up the things that other teenagers are enjoying each day. I don't really want to go some two hundred miles away from home and stay away for most of the year. But, I think that this is what God wants of me. I think He wants me to be here and that's why I'm here, because what I want doesn't really matter to me. This is the reason I've been returning each year, because I think God wants me to. Each year when I have to make the decision, whether or not to return, I ask myself what I think I should do, not what I want to do.

In applying this to the priesthood, I ask myself, do I want it, and I say I think God wants me to. Therefore, in that respect, I want it. But to me it's not ultimately important what I become. What is important is that with my life I make some definite contribution to God, to the society in which I live, and most important to me, that I help people. I realize that I can achieve these things as a doctor, a lawyer, social worker, or teacher; but it just so happens that I think I can do it best as a priest, and again I think that that's what I'm meant to be. The happiness in the seminary life comes from knowing that I'm doing the will of God, and giving myself to Him. As years go on my thoughts on what I'm meant to be may change, but whatever happens, I have to go forward telling Him "Your will, Father, not mine be done."

FACULTY UNDERGOES CHANGES

FATHER HUDSON TRANSFERRED TO CONGO

Father Hudson

For the past seven years, Father Francis X. Hudson was stationed here at Bellefontaine. As Vice-Rector and Treasurer, he played a large role in the administration of the seminary. The Bellefontaine staff remembers him as their advisor who helped the paper in its growth. All the students appreciated the time and energy he devoted in beginning the yearbook two years ago. Father Hudson helped the school grow in the seven years that he was here.

Father had a desire to be a foreign missionary. Last May, in answer to his desire, he received his transfer to the Congo.

This summer Father spent most of his time preparing to go to Africa. After his return from his visit home, he completed his final preparations for his new assignment.

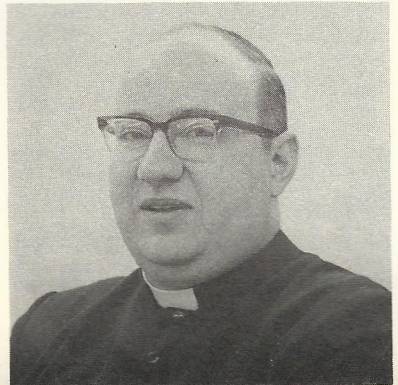

Kinshasa on the Congo River is now home for Father. He arrived there early this month, and according to a recent letter from him, he is very pleased with everything.

All of us here at Bellefontaine wish him luck in his new life.

FATHER KRAH NEW DEAN AT DONALDSON

The present students here at Bellefontaine will long remember Father Leo J. Krah. While at Bellefontaine, Father was Dean of Boys for two years and head of the English department.

On becoming Dean of Boys, Father Krah helped many of the students with their problems. He was also active in many clubs, directing the glee club, and aiding the Explorers. His presence on trips, such as the World's Fair and the canoe trip through the Adirondacks, insured success and a good time for all.

Father Krah

Now Superior at Divine Heart Seminary in Donaldson, Indiana, Father Krah carries with him our prayers and gratitude for his work here at Bellefontaine.

FATHER JOHN, MIC APPOINTED CHOIR DIRECTOR

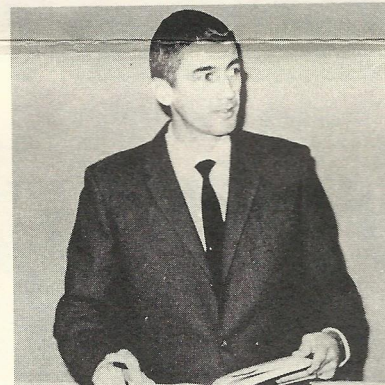

One of Bellefontaine's new teachers this fall is Father John Szantyr, M.I.C., a Marian Father from Stockbridge. Father John teaches music appreciation to the freshmen and sophomores, and is also the glee club director here at

Father Szantyr

Bellefontaine. Besides teaching music, Father John is the Vocational Director for the Marians.

Father attended the Angelicum in Rome and Catholic University. He likes to play the piano and to write music, and makes his classes more interesting by using this talent.

Mr. Justin Davis

MR. JUSTIN DAVIS JOINS TEACHING STAFF

We also welcome Mr. Justin Davis to our faculty this year. Mr. Davis is now teaching Geometry and Algebra II & Trigonometry.

Besides teaching here, Mr. Davis also teaches at Pittsfield High School.

Mr. Davis, a graduate of Georgetown University and the University of San Francisco, has acquired his Bachelor of Science degree and his Master of Arts degree.

BRO. NICK JOINS COMMUNITY

In the beginning of this year, Brother Nicholas Mieratko, S.C.J. came to Bellefontaine as a new faculty member. Bro. Nick is a graduate of both Gannon and Kilroe Colleges and received a Bachelors Degree in Mathematics. He teaches Algebra to the Freshmen. Besides teaching, Bro. Nick is the head infirmarian and faculty sacristan.

Bro. Nick was born in Erie, Pennsylvania in 1942. He attended two years at Gannon College in Erie. Afterwards he volunteered to join the Army. He spent one year at Ft. Gordon, Georgia, as a radio operator, and one year in Viet Nam as an aircraft mechanic.

During most of his life Brother wanted to help both God and man and for that reason he chose the brotherhood. During his years of study for the brotherhood, he requested teaching. In March of 1968, he was assigned to teach here at Bellefontaine.

Seniors Become Postulants

On July 6th, 43 graduates of the S.C.J. minor seminaries throughout the United States met at Immaculate Heart for their six week postulancy. Three days later the cassocks were blessed and the men became postulants preparing for the S.C.J. way of life.

Everyone then settled into a daily program of classes, work and recreation, under the guidance of the Novice directors, Father Donald Klingler, S.C.J., and Father David Lanphier, S.C.J..

The curriculum consisted of 2 classes every day, dealing mainly with the development of mental prayer, but also with the social and the spiritual aspects of life.

The afternoon work periods were spent caring for the building, but a lot of time and effort was spent on the grounds, especially clearing the woods and trimming the cemetery.

Life here, of course, wasn't all work. Nearly every afternoon after work, time was spent in taking advantage of Berkshire County's hot weather. Hours were taken up swimming either at the lake in Lenox — at Shadowbrook (a Jesuit Seminary in Lenox) — or at the indoor pool of the Marian Fathers in Stockbridge.

Nearly everyone went to Tanglewood, the summer home of the famed Boston Symphony Orchestra. There they had the opportunity to listen to famed conductors guide the Orchestra in performing the works of such renowned composers as Beethoven, Mozart, and Brahms. But despite the fame of these men most of the postulants found the most enjoyable performance in the Association's Concert on July 31. The following and final three weeks could be categorized with this statement: "the only constant thing in life is change itself." Indeed life was anything but static then. Two weeks were devoted to Bellefontaine's Vocational Workshops. The final week concluded their stay quite fittingly with eight days of intense spiritual preparation for reception into the novitiate.

On the morning of August 19, the postulants boarded the chartered bus, bade farewell to Lenox, and left for Sainte Marie, Illinois.

On August 18, nineteen postulants made their television debut, as they sang for a televised Mass in Springfield, Mass. on Channel 22. Father Paul Murphy directed the choir, as Father McGuire celebrated Mass on the program "Chalice of Salvation." Father Joyce Spencer, C.P., after the Mass, conducted a twenty minute interview with Father McGuire, in which they discussed quite a few topics, the main one being the work done here at I.H.M., and the work of the congregation here in America and in the foreign missions.

EDITORS NOTE

People love to speculate, and then try to show others that they have reasons for their statements. When speaking of the coming elections most people depend solely on polls, whether it be the Gallup, Harris or just a local poll. This country is plagued with polls; so the staff of Bellefontaine got out their pens and pencils, and began what was considered an ordinary poll. The results were stunning.

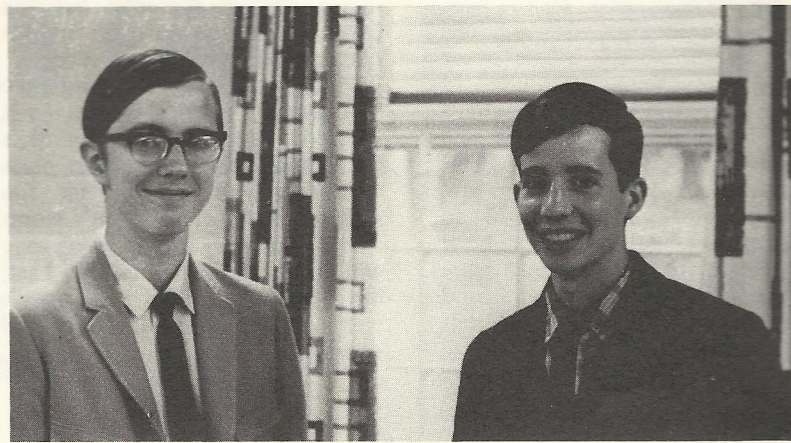

Ballots were distributed, and the students and faculty cast their votes. In a three way race for the Presidency, (write-ins included), it looked like this:

NIXON-AGNEW	41%
HUMPHREY-MUSKIE	38%
WALLACE	15%
McCARTHY	5%
ED KENNEDY	1%

The shocking things about the polls were as follows;

1. Most voters tend to favor a build-up in Vietnam, the theme being the hope for a military victory.
2. Most of the Wallace support was from students who wished to think of themselves as Republicans.
3. Most of the Wallace supporters are discontented with the present policy, and voted for Wallace for the sake of change.

This poll was taken on September 19, but you must consider that the students are not able to vote, but could show the general feeling of the eastern portion of the United States. Polls, in general, do have some bearing on the coming election.

Gary Zielinski and Denis Larrivee discuss the results of the test.

SENIORS OBTAIN HIGH HONORS

Last year, the Class of '69 at Bellefontaine took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. With two members of the class achieving superior results on the test, Bellefontaine awaited to hear exactly how well those two had done. This month our Rector, Father McGuire, announced that we have a semi-finalist and an honorable mention among the Senior Class.

These seniors are Gary Zielinski and Denis Larrivee.

Gary, it was announced, would be one of the 15,000 semi-finalists who achieved the top one percent ranking in the country. This enables him to take another test from which, if he succeeds, he could become a finalist and possibly win a scholarship.

Denis received a letter of commendation for his outstanding performance in the test. He placed in the upper two percent of those who will graduate in 1969. As a commended student, he ranks just below the semi-finalists.

Both are superior students of the senior class at Bellefontaine. Their academic performance measured through the NMSQT makes them deserving of public recognition.

Praise, congratulations, and encouragement should be offered to them, their teachers, and families. The National Merit Scholarship Corporation encourages these students to make every effort in continuing their education.

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

Father Corcoran mingles with some students.

On Friday, September 13, the Student Improvement Council sponsored the first annual Acquaint-A-Rama. Its main purpose, as its name indicates, was "acquainting" all the students and faculty members with one another.

The evening began at approximately 7:00. Talk, talk, talk, was the rule for the evening. And it was followed!!! From the moment it started to the moment the last drifters left, everyone talked, listened, and then talked some more.

But despite that, Tim McInerney and Jim Shanahan found time to entertain us with a few folk songs.

Refreshments and pizzas were served and the party came to an end at 9:00.

"Eastern States" Site of First Outing . . .

Students at I.H.M. started the year's first free-day by spending their Fall outing at the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass. on September 16.

The boys boarded the buses at 9:00 a.m. and were there by 10:00. At the Fair they were free to do whatever they wanted for the remainder of the day.

The main attraction of the day was the exciting Hell Drivers. These dare devils demonstrated precision driving at its best, employing one to five cars, a demolition act, and then gave us a preview of the new '69 Dodges. We were amused between acts by a clown and his very humorous antics.

Each of the New England States had its own pavilion at the Fair. These exhibited the natural resources, products, history, and life in their respective states.

Between shows and exhibits, students spent time at the amusements, arcades, and carnival booths. Finally, the students boarded the buses at 7:00 p.m. after having a fine time and a great day.

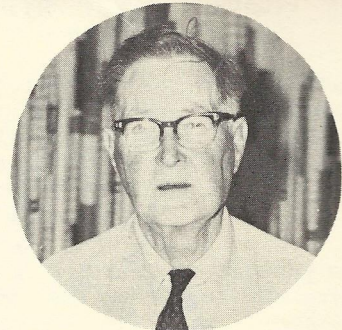

In Memoriam

Perhaps one of the most unrewarding jobs at Bellefontaine is that of floor crew and particularly, floor-crew captain. It's a job that is always criticized if done poorly and seldom noticed when done well. In short, it's a job with a lot of tribulations.

Yet in the past things have always seemed to manage. The floors were kept neat so that visitors often commented on the beauty of the buildings. In great part, this success has been due to the efforts of a quiet, almost unnoticeable man, Carl Collins. Mornings and afternoons would find him buffing the floors till the sun froze into them. Then he would silently retire and leave for home.

Recently, he passed away. His wake was held at Kelly's Funeral Home in Lee. Later he was buried in the nearby cemetery, but most important of all is what Carl now has and what he leaves to us: as in the words of Ted Kennedy, "Let us remember him as a good and decent man."

Taylor's Big Bats Dominate League

Softball season has come to a close here at Bellefontaine. In the A League, Tom Taylor's team took field honors ending up with a 3 and 0 record. In second place was Steve Maloney's team. Steve had a good team and finished with two wins and one loss. Gabe Guarente clinched third place with a one and two record, yet the games they lost were very close. Finally, bringing up the rear was Benny Vallandingham's team. His team lost all three games, but showed tremendous spirit and never quit playing until the last out.

In B League the competition was more competitive. There was a tie for first place with Mike Burns' and Tom Moffett's teams fighting it out. These two teams were deadlocked at two wins and one loss apiece. Both teams were strong and evenly matched. In third place was Rich Deslaurier's eight man squad. Rich had a well balanced team, but not enough of the big bats. He had a one and two standing. Someone had to come in last, and unfortunately, it was Tim Otto's team. Tim's team was very lively and had good spirit, but it takes more than that to win a ball game.

Hannan Strikes Out 5, As Faculty Bows to Students 6-2 . . .

Joe Alexander takes batting practice before game.

More To It Than Just Kicking The Ball!

Although it was a fairly short season, some students had an excellent chance to play in the one sport they liked - Soccer.

All those wishing to participate formed a league. As it turned out, Gary Zelinski's bootleggers came in first place with two wins and one tie. Joe Agrusa's and Lenny Lyon's teams trailed not far behind with one win, one loss and one tie. Last, but not least, Tim McInerney's team came in with one win and two losses.

Disappointing to some, no one was able to take a mud bath as the monsoon season didn't start. Most learned that there was more to Soccer than just kicking the ball. Passing, playing position and different techniques of ball handling proved to be essentials of any game. Everyone, as in seasons before, still came out with his share of bruises and aches.

As the season ended, all appeared satisfied and are sure to be looking forward to the next season.

For the first time in three years, the roles of the winner and loser in the annual Student-Faculty softball game were reversed, as the students routed the faculty 6 to 2. To the students it was a longed for victory. To the faculty, it was a game in which home was close yet so hard to reach. Different opinions were expressed on how the game was won, but most seemed to agree that the fine pitching of Bob Hannan and the breaks of the game proved to be major factors in the student victory.

As the two teams gathered up, some were troubled at the ominous line-up of the faculty. Stories of Bro. Nick's previous baseball days bothered some. Father MacDonald, Brother Peter, and Father Rosinski appeared seasoned and ready. Father Potocnak, Father Amrhein, and Brother Francis of the Marianas, took to the fields readily. It was anything but encouraging. However, the student captain Steve Maloney and co-captain Larry Kish didn't seem troubled.

As the game started, the two teams ran a deadlock. Father Russo's pitching kept the student's hits to a minimum, while at the same time the students played good defensive ball.

Finally, the game came alive in the fourth inning. A rally of hits and errors drove in two runs with Tom Brennan and Larry Kish scoring for the students. The fifth was almost a replay of the fourth, with Joe Alexander and Mike Porreca scoring. To show that the faculty meant business, Father Peter and Father Rosinski retaliated by scoring in the fifth and sixth innings respectively. In the seventh inning, the students were able to collect two more runs, and hold the faculty, thus winning the game 6 - 2.

At the end of the game, both teams congratulated each other on the fine game and the faculty, in true sportsmanship, invited the student team to have recreation with them in the Father's recreation room.

SENIORS GO TO HONESDALE

Each year, the seniors take their fall outing to Kilroe Seminary in Honesdale, Pa. The purpose of the trip is to meet the Fraters there and to acquaint themselves with the Congregation's major College in the United States.

As always, the main event tends to be the football game between the freshmen at Kilroe and IHM's seniors. Usually the speculation tends to favor the seniors as the victors. Some even go as far as to predict the game play by play but, to avoid embarrassment, the seniors simply state that "they shall overcome"! More than likely, they will only be able to boast of the great fight they put up.

We can only await the return of the Senior class, and keep our spirits high. Tradition may be broken, and our seniors may boast of more than just putting up a good fight. Maybe they can boast as true victors!

A LOVELY THOUGHT

The Good Lord sends me troubles,
An' I got to work 'em out.
But when I peer around I find,
There's trouble all about.

And when I see my troubles,
I just look up an 'grin,
To think of all the troubles
That I ain't in.
